We're thinking about data differently.

GRANTS MANAGEMENT FOR EVERYONE

Grants management used to be all about administrative activities. Log and track the grants and payments; create and run reports. You know what we mean. But things have changed. The use of data has become democratized, and everyone – not just the grants managers – is working with data in more sophisticated ways than before. In GivingData, your grants data supports the way you work, make decisions, collaborate, and learn.

DESIGN

We believe working with data should be easy, simple, and at times even fun. And we believe the tools that help you do this work should be beautiful as well. Great design illuminates the essence of an application, removes complexity without sacrificing power and flexibility, and in the end helps you get things done. GivingData is thoughtfully designed, balancing function and form, bringing delight to day-to-day work.

EASY DATA MIGRATION

When it comes to migrating your grants data from GIFTS, there is no other product like GivingData. With our unique approach to implementation and data migration, your foundation continues to work in GIFTS while you're transitioning to GivingData. All at your own pace until you're ready to move on from GIFTS. Then, simply pull the plug and complete the switch to GivingData. No disruption and only minimal training required.
